RELEASE NOTES

NI-VXI FOR VXICPU-030

Thank you for purchasing the VXIcpu-030 real-time embedded computer from National Instruments. These release notes contain information that you should consider when using the optional NI-VXI bus interface software with your VXIcpu-030.

You may already have a previous version of the NI-VXI software for the VXIcpu-030. National Instruments has released a new version of the software for the new revision of the VXIcpu-030. We recommend that you upgrade to the NI-VXI software version 1.3. Version 1.3 not only meets all the requirements of the new hardware revision it is also compatible with earlier hardware revisions. You can use NI-VXI version 1.3 software successfully in a system that may have both old and new hardware revisions of the VXIcpu-030.

Please contact National Instruments to request version 1.3 of the NI-VXI software for the VXIcpu-030.
